Of course, by all means. You are more than welcome to use the pdf version.

Best regards,

Shahin

Subject: Permission to mount a copy of an article

Dear Shahin Shojai

I am writing to ask permission to mount a copy of an article which was published in one of your journals in our institution's repository (Zurich Open Repository and Archive ZORA, <http://www.zora.unizh.ch> <<http://www.zora.unizh.ch/>>).

The publication resulted from work as a researcher at the University of Zurich. The University of Zurich require, according to the guidelines, that their researchers deposit a copy of all their published articles in the Institutional Repository ZORA (http://www.oai.unizh.ch/index.php?mos_lng=en).

The article is:

Hartmut Egger, Peter Egger, Volker Grossmann: Does capital mobility promote economic growth?* Journal of financial transformation 17 2006, 28-31.* * <<http://www.capco.com/WorkArea/showcontent.aspx?id=2906>>

The institutional repository ZORA is a not-for-profit service for academic authors, providing access to the full-text of their publications. Full bibliographic details are given for each article, including the journal of original publication, etc.

If possible, I would like to use the finalised PDF version as it appears in print. The PDF version has an advantage over mounting the author's own version, in that it maintains consistency in appearance of the article wherever it is read. This also maintains a closer association of the article with the Journal, through the running headers and the journal house-style.

I would be grateful if you could contact me to give your permission for including this article and to pass on any conditions that are associated. If it is possible to use the published PDF version of the article for this purpose, then please confirm this.

Thank you for your attention with this and I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely

Barbara Jarrett, Head librarian

Think before you print. If you print, recycle.
